RE: LaVan v. Parrish
Docket No.: 2:19-cv-04496

Dear Judge Brown,

As you know, I represent myself Pro-Se in the above-captioned matter. After consideration, it may be judicially economic to dismiss this matter in Your Court, hopefully, without prejudice. Certain aspect shall be adjudicated in New York Supreme Court, Suffolk County.

Thank you for your time, consideration and attention. It is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Julie LaVan

Date Filed	#	Docket Text
09/25/2020		ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE re 45 : On April 15, 2020, the Court held proceedings in this action wherein the Court granted defendants' motion to dismiss with prejudice the claims against defendant Dolores Parrish. In addition, the Court granted defendants' motion to dismiss the claims against defendant Richard Parrish without prejudice to plaintiff filing an amended complaint within 90 days. At the proceeding, plaintiff was cautioned that failure to file an amended complaint within 90 days may result in the complaint being dismissed with prejudice, judgment being entered and the case dismissed. To date, plaintiff has not filed an amended complaint and more than 90 days have elapsed. Plaintiff is hereby ORDERED TO SHOW CAUSE in writing on ECF why this case should not be dismissed with prejudice for failure to prosecute by October 26, 2020. Failure to show cause by the above date will result in dismissal of the complaint with prejudice, judgment being entered, and the case dismissed. The Clerk of the Court is respectfully directed to mail a copy of this Order to Show Cause on plaintiff forthwith. Ordered by Judge Gary R. Brown on 9/25/2020.c/ecf (Johnston, Linda) (Entered: 09/25/2020)
09/25/2020		ORDER re 50 : In view of the Court's Order to Show Cause dated 9/25/2020, Defendants' letter application to dismiss is denied without prejudice to renewal after 10/26/2020. Ordered by Judge Gary R. Brown on 9/25/2020. c/ecf (Johnston, Linda) (Entered: 09/25/2020)
